Letter to The Editor

I deplore the defection incident aboard USCG Cutter Vigilant and the Coast Guard's part in it. It was an outrageous blasphemy of all that the word "freedom" encompasses.

I was grossly disappointed to learn that the captain of the Vigilant, Commander Eustis, has been temporarily relieved of his command until further investigation.

With the most humble respect for the human rights of the Russian sailor, and the provisions of the Geneva Convention, I find myself coming to the same decision process, was the fact that he had been ordered by his superiors to return the sailor. Commander Eustis could not have known all the ramifications that generated that order. And I am certain that the whole of Russian-American relations, not to mention the lives of the officers and crew members of the Vigilant, could have been jeopardized had Commander Eustis chosen to disobey those orders.

I realize that it's not very satisfying politically to blame just a group with a collective non-face, without being able to point a finger at individuals. However, I think Commander Eustis was merely the instrument of incorrect decisions. To snuff out the career of a competent leader, for obeying orders, not blindly, but with a profound moral sense, seems a wasteful exercise in face-saving.

musicians seemed inspired by the over 600 people who came to hear a musical treat. The great voice of the band soared and sparkled as it poured out the great music of Christmas. The stage was strikingly decorated with one huge wreath, a handsome creation with twinkling lights and a red bow.

In turn, the applause thundered after every selection as appreciation rolled back to the musicians in waves. After each concert, we may well reflect on our good fortune. Large cities may have larger bands but no community can boast a more dedicated group. Our Symphonic Band is one which conductor John Pandolfi could present in any company and with the greatest pride.

John Atkinson announced the program and his enthusiasm is contagious. It is well that the band is excellent because they have to reach the heights to live up to John's descriptions. His asides, his natural personality and his humorous commentary delighted the concert goers as in the first concert.

A surprise appearance by guest conductor Orlando Pandolfi was a special treat. Orlando, age 12, conducted the band with creditable skill in the "Carol of the Drum".
Jeffrey Armes, also 12, was soloist for this selection. Both young musicians must have been thrilled by the reaction of the great crowd as they took their bows.

The Regional Civic Chorus, under the direction of Leo Peduzzi, sang a series of Christmas music. The human voice is one of the finest musical instruments and this fine group demonstrated that fact. This season would be bare indeed without music.
The poetry and melody of the Christmas music tells the story in the most delightful way possible. The chorus was joined by the band in Hallelujah from "The Messiah" and certainly that inspired selection lifted the spirits of all who were there.

After the concert, the entire audience

Junior Grange

Mattapoisett Junior Grange held its Christmas meeting last Friday night in the Grange Hall with 24 present. The worthy master, Harlene Fearing, worked the degree on three candidates: Phillip Barrows, Richard Barrows and Karen Barrows.

Due to the storm the hay ride was postponed a week.

A program of fun was arranged by the matron and master. Table games were enjoyed. Each Junior took part in trimming the Christmas tree and in an exchange of gifts. Hot chocolate and assorted cookies were served by the matron and her assistants.

FRIDAY & SATURDAY

GREAT CHOICE

leaving secret gifts for children on St. Nicholas' birthday became popular centuries ago. Even today, presents are exchanged on this day, December 6th, rather than on December 25th. A bale of hay is often laid out for the benefit of Santa's horse, not his reindeer.

In Spain and Italy, Santa arrives a whole month later, on January 6, Epiphany. This day seems very appropriate, for it is the day on which the Three Wise Men delivered the very first Christmas present, in Bethlehem. In Italy, incidentally, Santa is a she.

In France and Scotland, Santa arrives on January 1, New Year's Day. In England, where gifts were once distributed exclusively on the day after Christmas, Santa is seen more and more often on Christmas Eve, as he is here. This change is believed by some to be the result of increasing American influence on British customs.

In England, too, the kinds of gifts that Santa brings are also becoming more and more like American gifts. A generation ago, Englishmen tended to be a lot more "practical" than today. Husbands gave their wives a new cooking pot or a pair of new overshoes far more often than they do now. Happily for English womanhood, Englishmen are learning fast that scents like Shulton's Taji, inspired by the beauty and mystery of India's temple of beauty, the Taj Mahal, are even more "practical" than a pair of overshoes in the long run. And like their American counterparts, English sweethearts and wives are increasingly on the receiving end of Taji in the form of matched toiletry sets, and are finding their presents equally scent-sational!

SANTA'S ALIASES

Here is a "rogues' gallery" of Santa's aliases around the world:

Saint Nicholas. In the 4th century he was modeled after the original St., St. Nicholas who lived in Turkey and whose deeds of courage and kindness earned him the title of patron saint of children. The legend of the good saint as a giftgiver was later spread to Russia, Scandinavia, Holland, Belgium and Germany.

The Abbot of Unreason. In the Middle Ages, the gift-giver became an officer who directed the festivities of the holiday season. Dubbed the Abbot of Unreason by the Scots, and the Lord of Misrule, he held office from Christmas till January 6, and his word was law. Either elected or appointed, he ruled over holiday activities in royal households, cottages, and inns. The English called him King of the Bean, and to the French he was the Boy Bishop.

Christkindlein. In Germany during the 15th century, Martin Luther, a religious leader who also invented a lot of new German words, substituted Christkindlein, or the Christ Child, for St. Nicholas as the bearer of gifts. He wanted to make the act of giving gifts a symbol of the Wise Men's visit to Bethlehem bringing gold, frankincense and myrrh. So the Christ Child came secretly to German homes on the Eve of Christmas.

Kris Kringle. In the 16th century, a German colony settled in Pennsylvania, and again Santa's name changed! The settlers had brought the Christkindlein with them, but somehow it got transformed into Kris Kringle.

Santa, himself! The Dutch nicknames St. Nicholas "Santa Claus" for short, but his image as a fat little man with rosy cheeks and white beard comes down to us from a poem written in 1822 by Dr. Clement C. Moore, an American minister. Dr. Moore based the poem on a colorful old Dutchman he had once met, and named it "The Night Before Christmas". He recited it to his children, who were delighted. Then he threw it away. A lady visitor rescued it from the waste basket and had it published in the Troy Sentinel. It has become a literary classic and now almost every American child knows what goes on when Santa comes on Christmas Eve.

Julenissen. That's what the Norwegians call him, and he works overtime in the land of the Fjords. He brings gifts to good kids (only) before they go to bed on Christmas

SHRIMP, TURKEY MAKE GREAT GUMBO

So—you have always wanted to try your hand at gumbo? There is no better time than left-over turkey time. Live daringly. Don't toss those last sad pieces. By adding two cans of shrimp you have the basics for a rich, exciting gumbo, Creole style. This easy recipe is for an "okra" type, as distinguished from the kind called "file" gumbo. But don't be afraid of the okra. The trick is to fry it (yes, fry) until, in the words of one old-time Louisiana cook, it "quits ropin'."

SHRIMP AND TURKEY GUMBO

(4½ ounces each) shrimp
Turkey wing and "drumstick" or equivalent ½ cup cooking oil or fresh bacon drippings
1 box (10 ounces) frozen sliced okra
1½ cups chopped onion
3 garlic cloves, sliced
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1 bay leaf
½ teaspoon crushed thyme
½ teaspoon cayenne pepper
1 teaspoon salt

Chill shrimp in the cans. Wash all traces of dressing from turkey. Heat oil in a heavy soup kettle; fry okra, onion, garlic together over high heat, stirring constantly, until okra loses its viscous quality. Add 5 cups water; stir well. Add turkey, tomato sauce, seasonings. Bring mixture to a boil; turn heat to simmer. Cover and cook, stirring frequently, 1½ hours or until turkey falls easily from the bone. Remove meat; break into bite-size pieces; discard all bone, skin, gristle. Return turkey to gumbo; add shrimp and all shrimp liquid. Heat. Spoon gumbo around mounds of fluffy rice. 6 main-course servings.

WHAT'S THIS?

WHITE GIFT SERVICE

The annual White Gift Service at the Mattapoissett Congregational Church will be held this Sunday, December 20th, at 5:00 P.M. The highlights of this service will be the lighting of the fourth Advent candle and a Christmas Program presented by the students of the Church School. As in previous years, it is requested that the Church School students bring non-perishable food wrapped in white paper. Everyone is welcome to join in this celebration of Jesus' birth.

Following the White Gift Service, the Fireside Fellowship, in an annual custom, will light the Christmas tree on the wharf. There will be caroling during the brief service, and then the Fellowship will go caroling around the town. Any shut-ins who would like to have the young people sing for them may call Mr. Charles Dunn, 2505. This also applies to anyone who knows of someone who would appreciate being "serenaded" at this happy season.

AS PLEASING AS PUNCH!

A special treat for a holiday gathering should be colorful, novel, serve many and stimulate sociability. In the best of taste, Thanksgiving Punch, which can be served throughout the entire holiday season, is in just this spirit and ideal as a social mixer. Here are the ingredients:

Mix together in a punch bowl  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup (4 oz.) lemon juice,  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup (2 oz.) sugar, 1 cup (8 oz.) each of cranberry juice, orange juice and strong tea. Then add one fifth bottle (25.6 oz.) of white Don Q Rum and a dozen cloves. Introduce ice cubes to chill the punch. Decorate with thin lemon slices. Serves 15.

Now watch it melt the ice.

The teachers involved in the project are Mrs. Eunice Sederholm and Miss Elaine Lombardi.

The purpose of the program is to allow the children to receive as much individual and specialized instruction as possible.

As the program is set up now, Miss Lombardi teaches her classes in language for four weeks, while Mrs. Sederholm specializes in literature. At the end of four weeks, the classes are switched, thus providing a diversity of instruction for all students.

Despite the fact that a few problems have arisen, it is felt by both teachers that the project has been a success.

MATTAPOISETT HOUSING AUTHORITY

HOUSING-FOR ELDERLY SURVEY

The Mattapoisett Housing Authority acting as a Committee for the Housing of the Elderly is conducting a survey for the purpose of determining the need for this special type of housing in Mattapoisett. The committee believes many persons over 65 years of age are of limited income and cannot afford the type of housing best suited for their needs and therefore are living under unsafe and sub-standard housing conditions. This type of housing provides modern apartments especially designed for the comfort and safety of persons in this age group.

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

2. A person must be a citizen of the United States.
3. A person must be of low income.
4. A person must be in need of good housing. If you are eligible and in need of this type of housing, please clip the coupon below and mail it to: Mattapoisett Housing Authority, Housing for the Elderly, Mattapoisett, Massachusetts 02739.

Important Survey

RETIRED PEOPLE PLEASE NOTE

Editorial, D.C.J.

The inflation which has undermined the lifetime saving of many people is a cruel blow to thrifty people who planned ahead for their retired years. The sky rocketing taxes and rents have left most of these people in serious financial troubles at a time when they should be enjoying a well earned peace of mind.

The survey coupon which appears on this page is all important to retired people. If the results show enough interested people, Mattapoisett may be eligible for a special type of housing built especially for retired people of 65 or over. The housing would be built using a local architect so as to fit naturally into the town and would be along the lines of "Green Meadows" in Fairhaven.

Any person who can conform to the eligibility requirements is urged to fill out and send in the coupon. Even if they are not certain, it would be of great help in the survey if they would submit the coupon.

Low cost, specially designed homes would be so important to many people. The cost to the taxpayers is very low when weighed against the enormous benefits to the older population. This is one way to take some of the bite out of inflation. If you are over 65, it's up to you. No one can start the ball rolling except the people who will benefit.

for her and all who feel this way.

No one can go back. Memories are similar dreams and each year they become more golden. Christmases past become brighter for they are full of the best of times with people known and loved and perhaps gone. But it's sad when you reach that point where the magic is all behind you - that point where there is little joy in the present and no expectation in the future. The Christmas spirit is nothing more than the human spirit at its finest. So many people wait like a passive audience for the spirit to come and entertain them and they think it's gone when it doesn't perform like a television set turned on. Like all things of meaning, spirit requires participation.

An old fashioned steam radiator is an ugly object. On a cold day this hulking iron is transformed as it hisses cheer and projects its warm rays to everyone in the room. Then it becomes a friend and an object of affection and you might think "good old radiator".

Just like that the Christmas spirit is radiated from within a person. Then, with fortune, the warm rays of thoughtfulness, cheer and generosity are reflected back by a "good old friend".

Charles Dickens said it wonderfully in the story, "A Christmas Carol", which, to be appreciated, has to be read as it flowed from the pen of the author. A parent reading this story to the children will give them an experience to savor all their lives. Recently, this classic has been butchered by hacks and served up on television as a yearly "special" called "Mr. Magoo's Christmas Carol". This version bears as much resemblance to the original story as glass bears to a diamond. ## Season's Greetings

Christmas, 1970

To Our Friends and Neighbors

Though many things may change, Christmas remains the same. For it will always be a season of joy and hope, love and faith.

We thank all for the privilege of serving you this past year... and greet you in the true spirit of Christmas which began so long ago under the stars of Bethlehem. May you know the joy, the warmth and the love of Christmas as it is expressed by happy family gatherings, by the melodious bells and chimes and by our worship of the Almighty.

And we hope, as the New Year dawns, it will bring all the fullest measure of progress, happiness and good health. May these Christmas wishes and blessings be with you throughout the years that lie ahead.

Sincerely,

Harris M. Murray

only a pleasant sidelight. It's the difference between Christmas Eve and Christmas Day. The Eve is a treat for the spirit. It is the hush before the wonder of the event. It's the tingle of anticipation - the time to read "The Night Before Christmas" - for children to lie in bed and listen in the dark for the clatter of the hoofs on the roof. Christmas Eve is so wonderfully full with expectations that no event could realize the dream. Certainly not the reality of Christmas Day. Such is the power of imagination. But, without the Christmas Day to anticipate could there be a Christmas Eve? That magical night would be lost.

The lazy, human spirit glows brighter at Christmas for most. We warm to our fellow travelers in life and they reflect back in kind. With effort, we might have something of this the year round. The Spirit of Christmas is the rekindling of the human spirit and the great story of Christmas is the beautiful, simple one of the Baby born in Bethlehem. No one outside yourself can spoil Christmas because no external influence can reach the inner person, the human heart and the faith which sustains it through the centuries.

Decorative Goodies

FASHION A CHRISTMAS TREE WITH POPCORN

With all the tinsel and fancy ornaments on the market today, festoons of popcorn decorating the Christmas tree have become a thing of the past.

Skip the festoons, if you like, but keep popcorn in Christmas in other ways. Pop bushels of it for guests, for the kids on a frigid afternoon. Take a bowl of hot popcorn over to a neighbor when she is least expecting it.

a pastel or deeper green, leave the other batch white. Buy some gumdrop and other candy rings and select some for decorating the tree.

Prepare uncolored candied popcorn mixture. Press into lightly greased 8 x 8 x 2 inch pans, or make about one-half the mixture in balls for eating. Cool. Remove from pan. Cut off two sides leaving a square of 6 x 6 inches. Reserve the pieces for making the packages. Stand a 1/2 inch dowel upright in 6-inch square of candied popcorn.

Prepare 1 recipe green candied popcorn mixture. Form into three balls of graduated sizes, 5, 3 and 1 1/2 inches in diameter. Press balls firmly, then run end of dowel through each ball to make a hole. Remove balls from stick, let cool and harden.

To assemble tree, drop two gumdrop rings over dowel onto popcorn square; run stick through large popcorn ball. Add 2 more gumdrop rings, then medium sized ball, 2 more rings, and the smallest ball. Top stick with a large then a small gumdrop.

From reserved sides cut from candied popcorn square, cut squares and rectangles. Wrap and tie as packages. Place around base of tree. Decorate tree with candies or small decorative birds, if desired.
